LodgeX™ Airline Solutions helps Atlantic Southeast Airlines crews avoid lodging turbulence with new Sabre® CrewTrac interface.

The first third-party lodging administrator to offer the ultimate two-way crew scheduling interface.

Minnetonka, MN – May 24, 2010 – LodgeX Airline Solutions (www.LodgeX.com) ushers in a new era of convenience and savings for its client Atlantic Southeast Airlines (ASA) by providing seamless and automated crew scheduling and updates via the industry's first instantaneous, two-way lodging interface with Sabre CrewTrac.

Now, when ASA schedules their crews in Sabre CrewTrac, LodgeX automatically reserves their lodging and sends a confirmation. No further communication is necessary from the airline. As schedules change, crew members receive accurate, real-time hotel information, reducing the uncertainty of travel accommodations.

For ASA, the savings in time and costs are substantial. According to David Blodgett, Manager, Crew Scheduling, "The new interface is a strong tool for our crew schedulers that greatly reduces time-consuming duties related to lodging. It's a more efficient system because the same action that modifies our crew schedules automatically sends a message directly to LodgeX for our lodging needs."

Troy Salwei, Vice President of Airline Operations at LodgeX Airline Solutions, said, "This is just one way LodgeX is making big strides with new technology platforms. We're excited to be the first third-party lodging administrator to offer the tremendous capabilities of the Sabre CrewTrac interface. In the coming months you'll see a complete redevelopment of our existing software package, with far-reaching benefits for our clients."
